

RIOTS RIFE IN AUSTRIAN CITIES

One Hundred Thousand Persons in Vienna Food Riots, While Pillaging and Strikes Throughout Country, Testify to Seething Unrest of Heterogeneous People.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, June 21.—Following food riots, in which 100,000 persons took part, the Vienna labor council adopted resolutions, said a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam today, containing the following demands:

- 1.—That full bread rations be restored.
- 2.—That more food be given the public.
- 3.—That the government, whenever possible, enter into a general agreement on the basis of no annexations and join a league of nations for the enforcement of peace.
- 4.—That parliament be convened at once.

The food situation in Austria is described as terrible. Prague, Brunn, Galicia and Budapest have been reduced to bread, not having had any leguminous food in a month. The Neue Presse warns that a revolution will break out unless the situation is remedied. This Vienna newspaper declared further that the conditions in Prague and other industrial cities is such that unless the bread rations are increased the railways will be stopped.

The Arbeiter Zeitung says that Austria's allies must quickly remedy the situation in order to prevent "serious consequences." Count Tisza in addressing the Hungarian parliament at Budapest, said that many provinces have only one third or one fourth of the necessary food, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

He added that the situation at Vienna was very bad. London, June 21.—Fifty thousand persons, crying for "bread and peace," took part in the food riots in Vienna, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich today. The troops dispersed the mob with drawn swords and bloody fights.

Stores were pillaged and some were destroyed. A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says the Socialists at Vienna have issued a manifesto saying that the Austrians do not know how they can live any longer.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Express interprets the warning of the burgomaster of Vienna to the premier that he cannot guarantee order if the bread rations are reduced any further, as an expectation of revolt.

Rioting continues in the Austrian capital. Outbreaks are taking place in other cities also. A great strike of 100,000 workmen has been called in the Vulkan Arsenal at Vienna. The workers in the Warshawski aeroplane plant are also out.

The Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna strongly demands the resignation of Premier von Seydler. Zurich reports "further demonstrations by workmen in the Austrian capital and a continuation of the partial strike."

A dispatch from Copenhagen quoted the German Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts as saying that Hungary had offered 1,000 car loads of potatoes to Vienna, but that there is no prospect of the Austrian food situation being improved for three weeks.

Travelers arriving in Switzerland are quoted in dispatches as saying that famine—"stark, medieval famine"—threatens all of Austria.

The great mass of Austro-Hungarian people are more than war sick, one traveler was quoted as saying. "The sole thought is of bread. The sale of the Austrian populace has begun so low that the government has begun to fear a spread of Bolshevism."

One whole issue of the Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna was confiscated because it had demanded an investigation into two horrible cases of murder of prisoners of war by their fellow workmen in the gas works in the sixteenth municipal district of Vienna.

The matter was referred to parliament, but was hushed up in the press. Workers in Vienna, unable to eat the stuff that was called "bread," marched to the city hall and flung the leaves against the windows as a protest.

"Give us bread" is a cry that rings through all of Austria.

People often faint in the streets from sheer inanition, "one returned traveler said. "Even the soldiers get insufficient food. They too are sick of the war. It is a common thing to see soldiers begging food from civilians."

Raddish Held as Disloyalist. According to information received in Newburgh, says the Newburgh News, Peter Raddish, who on May 7, was reported to have eloped with Olga Frommel, a 17-year-old girl of Cedarville, has been arrested in Larabee, South Dakota, by United States officials, charged with disloyalty. Charges of the girl have gone to Larabee for the purpose of bringing her back home.

GERMAN WAR OFFICE LIED

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, June 21.—(Night)—The German war office statement, issued on Thursday afternoon, claiming that German troops had penetrated far into the American positions near Secheprey "inflicting heavy losses on the enemy," is a plain lie. It evidently refers to the action at the Bois de Remieres on Wednesday morning in which the sixty Germans taking part were repulsed.

Apparently the Germans are making every effort to counteract the effect in Germany of the American success in the Chateau Thierry district.

Consequently the American public may expect similar statements from Berlin.

WHEAT PROMISES TO ALLIES KEPT

American Housewives Praised For Having Made Possible Food Supply Abroad—Chicago Wheat Pit Not to Resume.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, June 21.—Rumors that the Chicago wheat pit would soon resume operations were emphatically denied by officials of the food administration. Arrival at local markets of the first of the new crop from Virginia had given rise to persistent reports that the pit was about to be revived.

"Emphatically no, the wheat pit will not reopen," said an official speaking for Mr. Hoover.

The first wheat of the early spring crop created considerable interest in the wheat supplies at hand in nearby markets. The supplies are nearly exhausted, and the barrels have been scraped to the bottom to make final shipments over seas.

Shipments of wheat to our allies will cease temporarily within the next ten days it was said. Our promised allotment for this year's crop to the fighting forces has been virtually kept, and with a small movement for the next few months, every bushel of wheat promised will have left our shores.

Nearly 15,000,000 bushels were sent across, it was learned. Shipments of the new crop begin in September.

Great praise was today given the American housewives who, through co-operation in the conservation measures of the food administration has made this enormous movement of wheat to our allies possible.

"It was the women of America who saved the situation," said an official.

Mohr Shoots Self.

New York, June 21.—William Mohr, former president of the Cotton Exchange, committed suicide at his home here early today by shooting himself through the head. Worry over business reverses is supposed to have caused his act.

GERMANS DOWN AMERICAN "ACE"

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, June 21.—Sergeant Frank Baylies of New Bedford, Mass., one of the American "Aces" flying with the French army, has been brought down eight miles within the German lines, following a duel with a German airman, said a dispatch from the front today. Baylies was attacked by four Germans while making a flight.

A French flyer who witnessed the fight last saw Baylies making for the ground. The American "Ace" belonged to a flying squadron known as "Storks," and is credited with having shot down eleven German machines.

The fight occurred on Monday. The sky was overcast and heavy clouds were hanging low which made the visibility very bad. Baylies and his companions did not see the German machines and were attacked unexpectedly.

Although only 22 years old Baylies has had a spectacular career since he joined the French army. The "Stork" squadron, to which he belonged, is credited with having downed 165 German aeroplanes. It was once led by the famous French airman, Lieut. Guynemer. In addition to the eleven machines Baylies was officially given credit for, he is unofficially supposed to have downed five others.

Baylies' fate is unknown, but his comrades hope that he escaped death.

Standard Dress Abroad.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, June 21.—Clad in a bright robe with gold facings, ermine hat, gold neckpiece and a suit such as was worn in the days of Queen Anne, the Lord Mayor opened the "Standard Suit Show" in Cloth Makers' Hall. Beside him stood Sir Charles Sykes, government director of wool control, wearing a plain twentieth-century business suit. The prices of the new standard suits range from $14.50 to $21. Clothing for women is to be standardized as well as that of men in order to conserve goods.

WAR AT A GLANCE

The Austro-Hungarian drive, which was started against the Italians seven days ago, has turned from an offensive operation to a defensive one.

Austria's crushing defeat is being pressed from day to day. Evidence from the Italian theater of war show that the Italians and the Franco-British Allies are attacking in force over the whole battle lines and gaining everywhere.

It is estimated that the Austrians have lost close to fourteen divisions in killed, wounded and prisoners and all they have gained is a precarious footing on the western bank of the Piave river at several places.

Heavy fighting had been taking place all along the forty mile stretch of front between the Montello sector and the Adriatic, especially on the lower Piave, where the Italians have retaken Capo Sile.

Capo Sile, which is on the Piave is 17 miles from Mestre, which must be taken before the Austrians could force their way into Venice.

The whole Austrian line in the Montello zone was shaken by the Italian advance north of the Nonte Belleno Railroad and the hold of the Austrians on Montello is being weakened. Weather conditions are becoming more and more advantageous to the Allies all along the front, especially so on the Piave, which has become further swollen by torrential rains.

Internal conditions in Austria-Hungary are so disastrous at present that the German high command would doubtless give aid rather than see the Austrians sustain a worse defeat than they have already suffered.

The full in the infantry fighting on the battlefields in France continues. There have been minor operations, one of which was brilliantly carried out by Americans on the Marne front, but the main forces are still resting on their arms.

AMERICANS HOLD LINE OF 38 MILES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, June 21.—Thirty-eight miles of front line trenches on the western front are now held by American troops, it was learned today.

The committee on public information was shown a confidential communication from General Pershing, giving the number of American divisions now in action. The number was "considerably more than two," they said.

Quantity production of both ammunition and machine guns is going at top speed, the committee was informed, 25,000,000 rounds of thirty calibre ammunition for use in France and many machine guns having been produced last month.

The transport of troops has not been cut down.

Mohr Shoots Self.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, June 21.—William Mohr, former president of the Cotton Exchange, committed suicide at his home here early today by shooting himself through the head. Worry over business reverses is supposed to have caused his act.

GERMANS DOWN AMERICAN "ACE"

By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, June 21.—Sergeant Frank Baylies of New Bedford, Mass., one of the American "aces" with the French army, has been brought down eight miles within the German lines, following a duel with a German aviator, said a dispatch from the front today. Baylies was attacked by four Germans while making a flight.

A French flyer who witnessed the fight last saw Baylies making for the ground. The American "Ace" belonged to a flying squadron known as "Storks," and is credited with having shot down eleven German machines.

The fight occurred on Monday. The sky was overcast and heavy clouds were hanging low which made the visibility very bad. Baylies and his companions did not see the German machines and were attacked unexpectedly.

Although only 22 years old Baylies has had a spectacular career since he joined the French army. The "Stork" squadron, to which he belonged, is credited with having downed 165 German aeroplanes. It was once led by the famous French aviator, Lieut. Guynemer. In addition to the eleven machines Baylies was officially given credit for, he is unofficially supposed to have downed five others.

Baylies's fate is unknown, but his comrades hope that he escaped death.

Standard Dress Abroad.

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, June 21.—Clad in a bright red robe with gold facings, ermine hat, gold necklace and a suit such as was worn in the days of Queen Anne, the Lord Mayor opened the "Standard Suit Show" in Cloth Market Hall. Beside him stood Sir Charles Sykes, government director of wool control, wearing a plain tweed suit, business suit. The prices of the new standard suits range from $14.50 to $21. Clothing for women is to be standardized as well as that of men in order to conserve goods.

So Writes Leo Myers From France. Where He Says He Has "Every thing That a Heart Can Wish For."

Jacob Myers of No. 107 Cedar street, has received the following letter from his brother, Leo Myers, in France:

IRISH LEADER PETITIONS WILSON

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, June 21.—John Dillon, Irish Nationalist leader, today sent an "Irish American" petition to Wilson, denouncing attempts to poison American opinion against the Irish who are not pro-German.

Mr. Dillon's statement was an appeal to help the Irish nationalists.

The Irish nationalists have been working for home rule, but they must not be confused with the Sinn Feiners, whose policies they strongly oppose.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Chicago, June 21.—A fleet of eighteen automobiles, driven by the world's greatest racing men, will leave the post tomorrow at the speedway when the signal is given for the start of the 100 mile auto derby handicap. They are all to be there, with the exception of Eddie Rickenbacker, now an American "Ace" somewhere in France.

The firm also is manufacturing tin containers for the government. These are wooden cases in which the tin ration boxes of the soldiers are packed. Special machinery has been installed.

WAR AT A GLANCE

The Austro-Hungarian drive, which was started against the Italians seven days ago, has turned from an offensive operation to a defensive one.

Austria's crushing defeat is being pressed from day to day. Evidence from the Italian theater of war show that the Italians and the Franco-British Allies are attacking in force over the whole battle lines and gaining everywhere.

It is estimated that the Austrians have lost close to fourteen divisions in killed, wounded and prisoners and all they have gained is a precarious footing on the western bank of the Piave river at several places.

Heavy fighting had been taking place all along the forty mile stretch of front between the Montello sector and the Adriatic, especially on the lower Piave, where the Italians have retaken Capo Sile.

(Capo Sile, which is on the Piave is 17 miles from Mestre, which must be taken before the Austrians could force their way into Venice.)

The whole Austrian line in the Montello zone was shaken by the Italian advance north of the Monte Bellesu, and the hold of the Austrians on Montello is being weakened. Weather conditions are becoming more and more advantageous to the Allies, all along the front, especially so on the Piave, which has become further swollen by torrential rains.

Internal conditions in Austria-Hungary are so disastrous at present that the German high command would doubtless give aid rather than see the Austrians sustain a worse defeat than they have already suffered.

The full in the infantry fighting on the battlefields in France continues. There have been minor operations, one of which was brilliantly carried out by Americans on the Marne front, but the main forces are still resting on their arms.

AMERICANS HOLD LINE OF 38 MILES

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, June 21.—Thirty-eight miles of front line trenches on the western front are now held by American troops, it was learned today.

The committee on public information was shown a confidential communication from General Pershing, giving the number of American divisions now in action. The number was "considerably more than two," they said.

Quantity production of both ammunition and machine guns is going at top speed, the committee was informed, 25,000,000 rounds of thirty caliber ammunition for use in France and many machine guns having been produced last month.

The transport of troops has not been cut down.

LATTINGTOWN.

Lattingtown, June 20.—The strawberry picking will be over this week, and the price on the whole is higher than in many years, ranging from 25 cents to 30 cents a quart and over. The pickers in this section have been paid 3 cents per quart.

Raspberries are now ripening and they bring from 17 to 18 cents per pint. The crop in this section looks favorable for a large yield.

There are no signs of peaches here, and the pear, apple and currant yields are rather meager.

Men pickers being scarce, S. B. Wygant and L. W. Craft have hired New York girls to pick for them. Nearly all of them wear the men's costumes, which facilitate picking fruit from the ground and from ladders up the trees.

Willie McGowan, son of P. McGowan, has been taken to the Newburgh Hospital to be treated for appendicitis. At present he is getting along nicely.

There was another school meeting called not long ago in District No. 7 here, and there were enough citizens present to elect officers for the ensuing year. William Kaley was elected trustee, E. A. Reynolds collector and chairman, James Conklin, Jr., clerk. Amount to be raised $600.

Mrs. L. W. Craft has returned from a visit to her parents at Bay Ridge, L. I.

Miss Cora Mackey has been home for a brief visit from Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gregory of Middletown and S. J. Gregory and Mrs. G. N. Denman of Newburgh have motored to visit Mr. and Mrs. Eli Reynolds.

It is stated that S. W. Craft will have 46,000 pints of raspberries this season.

Mrs. E. M. Clark, assisted by other ladies, has started a regular Sunday school in the Baptist Church here. The school at present will have a morning session at 9 o'clock. Preaching is also to be during some Sundays of the month.

The weather here mornings and evenings is cold, necessitating building a fire.

The Marlborough M. E. Church is going up quite fast and may be in use by fall. Rev. Mr. Knapp has also signed a contract for a large pipe organ.

Mrs. Robert Knapp conducted ably the service of the Woman's Missionary Society in the M. E. Tabernacle last Sunday evening. Mrs. Hulshart read a patriotic war essay, Miss Grace Halliwick spoke a war poem and Miss Griner sang a new piece very nicely. A collection was taken for an orphan school in the east.

T. B. Odell is again confined to the house.

The young men who belong to the Home Guard go to Milton for practice every Wednesday.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, June 20.—The posters announcing the attractions of the Fourth of July celebration to be held in this place are now out. Every one should take notice and read, then plan to attend the celebration at home.

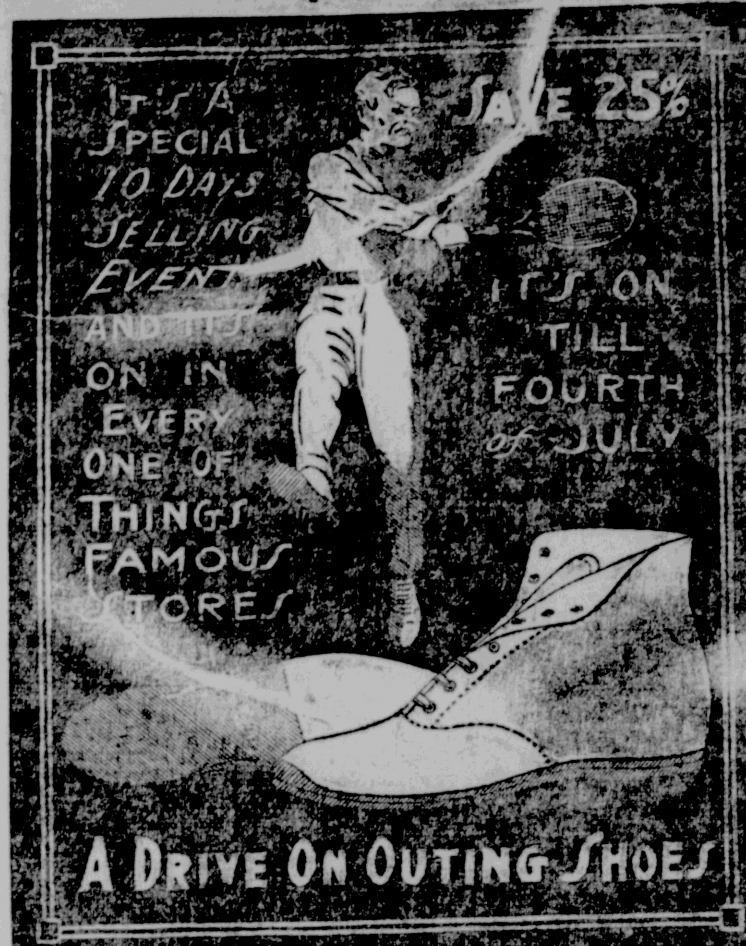

The strawberry festival held by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, June 15, was a social and financial success. The net proceeds were twenty-five dollars.

The Ladies' Aid will be entertained this week at the home of Mrs. DeForest Bishop. Miss Marie Heffern of New York city is spending the summer with Mrs. J. L. Snyder of this place.

"Kayser" Silk Gloves For Summer

NO NEED TO INTRODUCE "Kayser" Silk Gloves to Kingston women! R.'s; that "Kayser" Gloves keep their shape and give long wear. The R. G. R. store has brought to Kingston women this season the largest assortment probably that has ever been shown here. The variety is so great that it is impossible to find Gloves which will not harmonize with almost every boot shade, suit shade or hosiery shade; that will not be precisely correct for every occasion.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

SATURDAY.

Breakfast.

*Strawberries. Corn flakes with top milk. Stuffed potatoes. Coffee.

Lunch or Supper.

New England dinner. Radishes. Baked custards with dates.

Dinner.

Cannelloni of beef. Scalloped potatoes. Creamed cabbage. Fruited gelatin sponge.

(May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.)

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

We are asked to use only the "odds and ends of meat," i. e., such small parts as could not be sent abroad. Hamburg steak—into which many small pieces go—is one way in which we may buy meat.

New England Dinner.

Boiled greens with a little salt pork, and about 45 minutes before done, the addition of potatoes to boil. The dish is served on one platter—potatoes in the center, the greens in a mold around them.

Cannelloni of Beef.

One pound lean beef (cheap cut), grated rind 1/4 lemon, 1/2 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, 1/2 teaspoon onion juice, 1 tablespoon melted butter, few gratings nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 egg.

Chop the meat finely, and add the remaining ingredients in the order given. Shape in a roll six inches long, place on a rack in a dripping pan and bake 30 minutes. Baste every five minutes with one-fourth cup of butter melted in 1 cup of boiling water. Serve with a brown sauce made with cornstarch or corn flour.

Fruited Gelatin Sponge.

Let any flavored gelatin (1 pint) set until it begins to thicken then beat 1 egg white and mix with it. Add fruit and let it set until firm.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

LATTINGTOWN.

Lattingtown, June 20.—The strawberry picking will be over this week, and the price on the whole is higher than in many years, ranging from 25 cents to 30 cents a quart and over. The pickers in this section have been paid 3 cents per quart.

Raspberries are now ripening and they bring from 17 to 18 cents per pint. The crop in this section looks favorable for a large yield.

There are no signs of peaches here, and the pear, apple and currant yields are rather meager.

Men pickers being scarce, S. B. Wygant and L. W. Craft, have hired New York pickers to pick for them. Nearly all of them wear the men's costumes, which facilitate picking fruit from the ground and from ladders up the trees.

Willie McGowan, son of P. McGowan, has been taken to the Newburgh Hospital to be treated for appendicitis. At present he is getting along nicely.

There was another school meeting called not long ago in District No. 7 here, and there were enough citizens present to elect officers for the ensuing year. William Kaley was elected trustee, E. A. Reynolds collector and chairman, James Conklin, Jr., clerk. Amount to be raised $600.

Mrs. L. W. Craft has returned from a visit to her parents at Bay Ridge, L. I.

Miss Cora Mackey has been home for a brief visit from Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gregory of Middletown and S. J. Gregory and Mrs. G. N. Dennau of Newburgh have motored to visit Mr. and Mrs. Eli Reynolds.

It is stated that S. W. Craft will have 46,000 pints of raspberries this season.

Mrs. E. M. Clark, assisted by other ladies, has started a regular Sunday school in the Baptist Church here. The school at present will have a morning session at 9 o'clock.

Preaching is also to be during some Sundays of the month.

The weather here mornings and evenings is cold, necessitating building a fire.

The Marlborough M. E. Church is going up quite fast and may be in use by fall. Rev. Mr. Knapp has also signed a contract for a large pipe organ.

Mrs. Robert Knapp conducted ably the service of the Woman's Missionary Society in the M. E. Tabernacle last Sunday evening. Mrs. Hulshart read a patriotic war essay. Miss Grace Halliwick spoke a war poem and Miss Griner sang a new piece very nicely. A collection was taken for an orphan school in the east.

T. B. Odell is again confined to the house.

The young men who belong to the Home Guard go to Milton for practice every Wednesday.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, June 20.—The posters announcing the attractions of the Fourth of July celebration to be held in this place are now out. Every one should take notice and read, then plan to attend the celebration at home.

The strawberry festival held by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, June 15, was a social and financial success. The net proceeds were twenty-five dollars.

The Ladies' Aid will be entertained this week at the home of Mrs. DeForest Bishop.

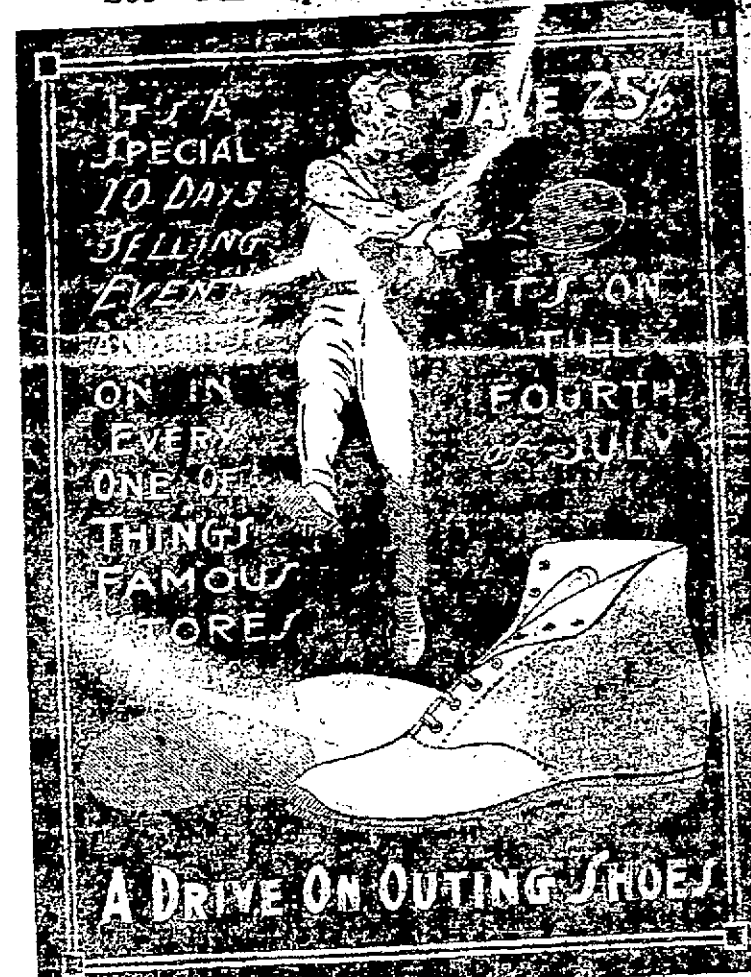

Miss Marie Heffern of New York city is spending the summer with Mrs. J. L. Snyder of this place.

Some of the best judges are now here for the Industrial and Commercial Exposition.

Gertrude McDermott of Newburgh is visiting in this place.

UNAVOIDABLE INJUSTICE.

An unquestionably loyal German-American family has privately complained that the son of that family, now in one of the training camps, has been searchingly questioned by government detectives and is probably still under observation "just because he has a German name." We can all understand the feelings of these worthy people, yet most of us can as readily understand that what they complain of is absolutely unnecessary. The case of ex-Captain Henkes, who was given twenty-five years of hard labor for proved disloyalty, makes it necessary. The case of Brigadier-General Frederick E. Resche, who was discharged from the National Army for "lack of zeal" and "questionable utterances," makes it necessary. A thousand events and thousands of utterances, showing nominal American citizens to be either lukewarm or at heart with Germany, make it necessary. Even though it may do injustice to many loyal and good soldiers, it is nevertheless imperative.

Our country occupies a peculiar, not to say perilous, position in this particular, and its responsible officers can not be too careful. Thousands of young men of German birth or parentage have been drafted into our armies, many of them against their will. Prior to their entrance into the war practically all of these ardently sympathized with Germany. Doubtless most of them in the supreme test now put America first, but it is quite possible that thousands of them at heart do not and that hundreds of them, unwillingly forced into the struggle, are disposed to give aid to Germany in every possible way. Such is the unfortunate and menacing situation, and it must be wisely and resolutely faced. It is a pity to do injustice to the many in order to protect the country from the relatively few, but there is no choice. The utmost watchfulness is necessary.

DISLOYAL AMERICANS.

Much newspaper space is given to the subject of German propaganda in the United States, but scarcely a line is devoted to another sort of propaganda—that is ill-timed and very harmful—the Sinn Fein anti-English agitation which too many Americans are inclined to forward even under present circumstances, perhaps not realizing that in so doing they are actually disloyal to their own flag. They are disloyal for the simple reason that at present England's and America's interests are identical, and whatever hurts one country hurts the other. Whatever the merits of the Irish question, this is no time for a loyal American to join in the agitation, and no loyal American will do so if he be sane enough to realize what is at stake.

Suppose several of our Southern States were still dissatisfied with the issue of their war for separate nationality in 1861-5; suppose they should seize the present opportunity to renew the fight and invite Germany to come in and help. What would the rest of the country think of them, or of Englishmen who, disregarding world-war issues, should applaud and actively sympathize with them? Yet it is precisely this sort of thing that the Irish Sinn Feiners and their American sympathizers have done and are doing. Not only would no single soul in the Southern States dream of such a thing now, but the Southerners refused to bring in foreign aid, with its risks and costs, even while they were in arms against the North. The archives of the Confederate government show that the Emperor Napoleon III hinted at such aid, with territorial compensation in Louisiana or Florida, and that the unwelcome suggestion was promptly turned down by the Americans of the South. Surely every sane American of today ought to know that this agitation of the Irish question should be suspended until the world-war is over and the world-menace is disarmed.

AS STRONG AS EVER.

The rising generation is not feebler than the preceding, pessimists to the contrary, and Prof. Phelps of Yale merely confirms the view of other thoughtful observers when he says: "This war has proved that our modern young men, in spite of the so-called ease and luxuries of the day, are made of the stuff of their fathers of 1776. If it be true that our young men have lived among modern luxuries, then I submit to you that their cheerfulness in sacrifice is all the greater because of that. People suppose that luxury has made the whole race degenerate, but that is not my belief." Prof. Phelps is right. There has been much thoughtless talk along this line.

It is not necessary to be an ascetic in order to achieve fortitude. Still less is it necessary to "scorn delights and live laborious days" in order to be physically strong. Modern young men are compelled by the demands of business to "live laborious days," but they take their recreating pleasures as they come and are the better for them in both mind and body. Civilization itself does not weaken. The civilized man is stronger and has longer life than the savage. Even the relatively slight difference between the city boy and the country boy is in favor of the former when it comes to endurance in war, as abundant observation has shown. It is the abuse of civilization's advantages that weakens, not the proper use. The pessimist's view is not based on a study of young Americans in bulk or in the average, but upon the effects of the soft ease and dissipation of a very small class of young men who have had too much money to spend and too much time to kill. To draw general conclusions from such a restricted basis is as absurd as to conclude that a whole barrel of potatoes is of no use because two or three on the top are rotten.

It will take 2,000,000, possibly 5,000,000 American soldiers to win this war, and the least that the other 95,000,000 of us can do is to buy Liberty bonds or War stamps and thus help finance the vast undertaking. It is up to us whether to decide to do this or to submit to a German victory at Washington, a German satrap in command of every one of our states, and a strutting German boss lordling it over every town in the whole country.

MOTION DENIED IN MACKEY EXCISE CASE

Through His Attorney He Asked for a Certificate of Reasonable Doubt
—Case Was Tried at the County Court Here.

County Judge James Jenkins has denied the motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt, made by A. D. Lent, attorney for Wesley A. Mackey, convicted in the county court of having sold beer in the no-license town of Lloyd and sentenced by Judge Jenkins to the county jail for thirty days and to pay a fine of $200.

The opinion denying the motion contains an interesting review of the salient point of the judge's charge. The opinion is as follows:

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF
ULSTER

The People of the State of New York, against Wesley A. Mackey.

Motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

This motion is made by the defendant for the certificate provided for by Section 527 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and should be granted if the reasonable doubt whether the judgment should stand and not otherwise. This motion was originally made on the 6th day of May, 1918, and has been adjourned by agreement of counsel to this date. I shall immediately proceed to decide it for sometimes justice delayed means justice denied. The defendant has been convicted of violating the Liquor Tax Law (in that he unlawfully sold lager beer in the town of Lloyd, a no license town, on July 28th last.) He was sentenced to be imprisoned in the Ulster county jail for thirty days and to pay a fine of two hundred dollars. The defendant urges six grounds, as errors upon which he asks me to say that there is a reasonable doubt that the judgment should stand. The act charged as a crime is plainly set forth and appraises the defendant of the time, place and circumstances sufficiently to enable him to prepare his defense. In my opinion there is no doubt that the indictment meets the test of sufficiency, prescribed by Section 284 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Secondly, The defendant alleges that there was no competent proof to show that the town of Lloyd was a no license town. The evidence shows without peradventure that on July 28th, 1917 the town of Lloyd was a no license town.

Third, It is further alleged that the court erred in admitting the certificate of the town clerk showing the result of the vote of the People of the town of Lloyd upon the excise question submitted. I am of the same opinion upon that question that I was upon the trial.

Fourth, If there was an error in a single statement in my charge I think it was cured by what followed. The error complained of that portion of the charge in which I stated "If you find that the defendant did sell the beer in a no license town, to-wit, the town of Lloyd, your verdict will be guilty." The, a definite article and refers to specific beer. The former part of the charge and the testimony related to beer that was sold on the 28th day of July, 1917, at the defendant's hotel and furthermore the subsequent part of the charge informed the jury that before they could find the defendant guilty, they must find that the sale was made at the time and place charged in the indictment, which was the final question submitted to them as follows:

"Second, Did the defendant traffic in liquor as alleged in the indictment? That is, did he sell beer to the People's waitresses Van Zandt and Leonard or either of them, on the 28th day of July, 1917. If you find that he did, your verdict will be guilty. If you find that he did not, your verdict will be, not guilty." The jury found the defendant guilty.

The fifth and sixth ground urged as creating a reasonable doubt that the judgment of conviction should stand, to-wit, that it was error to exclude the testimony of Eisenburger as to the customary method of distribution of Pabst beer and that the jurors who rendered the verdict, were guilty of misconduct, respectively. I deem not of sufficient importance to warrant any discussion.

Further the Legislature of the State of New York have in order to avoid miscarriage of justice on account of mere technical errors, provided by Section 542 of the Code of Criminal Procedure that upon appeal "the court must give judgment without regard to technical errors or defects or to exceptions which do not affect the substantial rights of the parties."

This judgment being supported by sufficient allegation and proof, and there being no errors affecting a substantial right, there is no reasonable doubt in my mind why it should not stand, and, therefore the motion is denied.

(Signed) JAMES JENKINS,
Ulster County Judge

Shad Easily Taken.

The habits of the shad lend themselves admirably to the extermination of the fish. They approach the shores in immense schools, actually crowding one another in their efforts to reach the head of the fresh-water streams, where the spawn is deposited. Fishermen learned quickly how to intercept the run by nets in the bays and in the broad mouths of rivers, and the marketable shad are now nearly all caught in this way.

The Slacker's Load.

"De biggest load some folks has got ter carry," observed Brother Williams, "is a grip full of excuses for gittin' out o' doin' de right thing at de right time. For instance, ef it's wood-cuttin' day, dey ain't got no ax; an' ef dey got a ax, dey ain't no grindstone ter sharpen it; an' ef de grindstone's dar, de well's gone dry an' dey's no water ter wet it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

It would not surprise any of those who work under the city hall dome if the police board at the meeting this evening appointed Lester Legg to fill the vacancy on the force caused by the death of Officer John G. Boyd, and also decided to equip the department with one or more motorcycles so that speed violators could be the more easily caught. The motorcycle idea is not new, but has been suggested by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood in his annual reports to the police board in other years.

Since Officer Ray Saehoff returned from his annual vacation he has been busy making the circuit of the city checking up the dog census and those who obtained licenses, and those who have unlicensed dogs.

But fifteen women aliens have registered so far this week at police headquarters. The women have until the 26th to register, but are urged to register before that time so that there will not be a rush on the last days of registration.

City Judge Schirick has received word from his brother, George, who was wounded on the firing line, that he was out of the hospital and was back in the trenches again with his company in France.

The water board made its annual inspection of the water shed on Thursday making the trip in automobiles. They found conditions first-class.

There were no cases in police court this morning.

Officer James V. Connelly found a pocketbook this morning near the Y. M. C. A. and left it at police headquarters.

Thursday seven more cases of measles were reported to the health board.

Kingston Point Music Quickens Interest of Soldiers and Civilians.

It is of frequent occurrence to hear as one goes about town, of the interest being taken in the band concerts being given on Sunday afternoons by our Colonial City Band at Kingston Point. This interest is shown not only by the civilian population but by the soldiers or sailors who, home on furlough, go down to the point to listen to the patriotic music on the programs given. In connection with this matter of patriotic or even more specifically, military music, some of our most conservative and reliable periodicals have recently been calling attention to the effect which our patriotic songs and military music are having upon our soldiers and sailors, publishing letters from the men in service relative to the matter. Here are just a few pithy sentences quoted from such letters:

"The songs that we sing sustain and keep up the old 'pen' that will lead us on to victory 'over there.'"

"There is nothing like a good band and we have a crackjack, to restore our spirits and freshen exhausted bodies."

"Music has made more men soldiers than all the recruiting speeches and recruiting posters. When all else has failed, the inspiring note of a band have cheered them on. The tune may be 'It's a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight,' it may be 'Tipperary' or it may be 'Marseillaise.' It's music. Soldiers' music. And soldiers respond to it as they do to nothing else."

Realizing the influence at this critical period in our country's history, of such music as the men above have described, every community does well to furnish to its citizens such musical programs, band rendered, as we have at Kingston Point on Sunday afternoons.

HOMESPUN YARN.

Preserves are reserves, ready to be called out next winter. Are you enlisting?

A few dozen eggs put down in water glass in your cellar now will be like dollars in your pocketbook next winter.

You should not only buy wheat substitutes, but use them. Remember why you are asked to use them, and you will find a way.

Now, "When Potatoes are Plentiful," you ought to have the bulletin bearing that title. Your copy is waiting your call at the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. Your name and address and "R. C. F. H. 118" on a postal will bring it to you.

As a soldier a man uses thirteen times more wool than as a civilian. It is estimated. And the soldiers must have the wool. No loyal housewife will buy any more wool than is absolutely necessary, and she will use with great care of the wool she has.

Make two glasses of preserves grow on your pantry shelves where only one grew last year. Rhubarb will help. A small amount of berries, cherries, or other fruit with a large amount of rhubarb makes a good combination.

QUARRYVILLE.

Quarryville, June 20.—Mrs. Charles Carrington and son are visiting at S. W. Teetsel's.

A number of our folks attended Children's Day service at Malden last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Fred Carrington of Schenectady is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Carrington.

A couple of state troopers passed through this place Tuesday.

The trustees of the M. E. Church intend to hold a picnic on July 4. There will be a patriotic entertainment by local talent in the evening.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Dairy Division,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dairy Division, urges the people to eat more Cottage Cheese. It supplies more protein than the same weight of beef, pork, lamb or fowl, when properly manufactured from pasturized milk.

The method of manufacture, the pasteurizing, clarifying and cooling equipment of the Kingston Creamery, together with the care of the products of the same, have been carefully inspected. They are strictly in accordance with the Federal requirements for the production of a pure, palatable and nourishing food of the highest quality.

The liberal use of the Milk, Cottage Cheese. Buttermilk and Butter of the Kingston Creamery is earnestly recommended, not only because of their healthful value, but also from the standpoint of patriotism in this critical period of shortage of meat.

The manufacturer who uses Gas as Industrial Fuel is accomplishing two noteworthy results.

He is operating along lines which are both modern and efficient.

He is performing a patriotic service by contributing to the conservation of national resources.

The first result is achieved because Gas is the ideal industrial fuel—clean, no waste, easy control, perfect heat regulation, occupies no storage space, requires no handling, ties up no capital in fuel, brings relief from fuel shortage problems.

The second result is accomplished because coal, coke or oil, as utilized in the manufacture of Gas, release the greatest possible number of heat units. In addition to this, the valuable by-products of tar and ammonia, of vital importance in the making of munitions, are preserved in the manufacture of Gas. They are lost when coal, coke or oil are privately consumed.

For the good of the nation and yourself use Gas as Industrial Fuel. Phone 1400

HORSES FOR ARMY OF FARM TYPE WANTED

Lucrative Industry in Breeding Horses Open to Farmers and Stock Raisers in All Sections in Small as Well as Large Way.

A strong appeal is going out to farmers, country gentlemen and horse breeders to raise horses for the army.

The United States army and, as far as that is concerned, all armies now operating in this war, are in great need of horses. Aside from the immense losses that occur in the war zone, there has not been from the start, beginning with the demand for horses made by the allied nations, a sufficiency of horses. Canada and the States were combed from ocean to ocean in 1914 with unsatisfactory results. While the army mule is necessary for many purposes, for other purposes horses are indispensable.

Agents numerous employed by the several governments find conditions getting worse. Horses of the kind needed in the service cannot be obtained. The only relief that can be obtained is for the breeding of horses to be revived all over the country. To owners of farms and ranches, it will prove lucrative. Wherever there are meadows and pastures every owner can do a patriotic service profitable to himself by raising as many horses as his circumstances and the conditions around him warrant.

The government will stand back of him. Even our eastern farmers, the farmers of Ulster, can do this important service for every little help. A half dozen colts can readily be raised on many of our farms without disturbing the regular line of agriculture that is being carried along.

The appeal now being made from Washington is for a large membership in the Army Horse Association. The secretary, W. K. Bush-Brown, has headquarters at 1729 G street, Washington, D. C., to whom letters of inquiry can be addressed. Inquiries addressed to Major G. F. Chandler, the president of the association, State Constabulary, Albany, will doubtless be cheerfully answered. It will be shown to every inquirer how the raising of horses for the army can be made to pay.

A letter from the secretary of the association received by Maj. Chandler conveys the information that the horse owners who have been heard from are enthusiastic for making horse breeding for the army a large industry throughout the country.

The type of horses required are also useful for farm labor so that whether or not the war is prolonged, the market for this army-farm type of horses will be attractive and good prices will prevail for years.

The Army Horse Association has for its object the getting together for purchase by the army horses of the type for cavalry and light and heavy artillery. Also, to stimulate the breeding of such animals by the farmer for his own use, as well as for the army. The government will always be ready to buy his horses.

"Thousands of such horses will be needed later on," says a letter received from the Army Horse Association headquarters at Washington, "as universal military training will without doubt follow this war. The government cannot possibly own all the horses which will be required later, therefore the people should breed and own horses which are of use to themselves now and will be available for the army when needed."

The State Constabulary of New York started such a movement last fall under the direction of its commander, Major George F. Chandler. Because this work had already shown promise of success, Major Chandler was asked to explain it at a meeting held in Washington recently, where his knowledge of the situation and the promise it held out for a successful agitation of the subject, so recommended itself to the army authorities that he was elected president of the association, which includes army officers of high station and connoisseurs of horses, such as Prof. J. J. Hooper, of Kentucky, the vice president of the association; Joseph A. Murphy, of St. Louis, Mo., second vice president; M. W. Harper, Cornell University, third vice president.

The United States is to be divided into fourteen zones, each under a director with sub-directors. Breeding farms will be located in different parts of the country. Members of the association will receive bulletins and instructions from time to time. The army agrees to buy all horses raised according to these instructions at a fixed price. Endurance tests will be made from time to time of horses from every part of the country.

The advantage of entering into the breeding of horses under these conditions with all who undertake it where horses are bred of the common sturdy stock is that fancy prices will not be charged or foals. The army horse type is the best for general utility farm purpose. Besides the breeder will be guaranteed a price that will pay him well, and will have access to instructions and advice from government sources.

This is no fancy or racing horse proposition. The association will in no way interest itself in racing or the breeding of horses for speed. The call of the government is behind it. The indispensable horse.

The following bulletin on the subject of horses has been issued by Major Chandler:

State of New York.
New York State Troopers,
Capital Building, Albany.

Bulletin No. 6.
As many developed, his first achievement was his mastery of the lower animals.

The dog came first under his domination, and willingly assumed the role of companion, and has remained his true friend for centuries. Next came the horse and many other beasts of burden, such as the camel, elephant, ox, donkey, ostrich, all of which have been used in different countries as carriers for men, but among them the horse stands supreme.

Don't be dazzled by the wonders of mechanical transportation. Remember that the steam railroad runs upon tracks and must follow prescribed lines, that the automobile depends upon roads and in a measure upon weather, that tractors are expensive and are only of use in big undertakings and in highly civilized localities where mechanics are available and supplies and equipment are easily obtainable. Such places are few in number throughout the great inhabited area of this world.

Don't forget that the horse can go where all mechanical means fail and in all kinds of weather. He has always been and will continue to be man's surest means of transportation.

We were put here for some purpose and so was the horse, and no matter how clever man may be he cannot overcome the plans of his Creator. Inventions may change the drift of civilization, but they never conquer Nature, which can, by means of wind or snow, or electrical disturbance or even continued cold weather, clog the movements of any kind of transportation machine man has made.

When man came out of barbarism, he found that he must have laws, and by maintaining these laws he became civilized. To maintain them properly he had to have a repressive force or police.

Civilization has found that police is as necessary to its life as food is to the individual. Early records show that the agents of law were horsemen. They were so at first and they will continue so to be in a degree throughout the world, especially in rural districts.

So, it is today in the army. While there are numerous new instruments of warfare, and many new ways of moving troops and supplies, the horse and mule are still the main means of transportation in the field. It was the cavalry that saved the day at the battle of the Marne. The horse at that time helped save democracy from tyranny. The horse has always stood for democracy, because he is common to all races and all classes of men.

Now we, who are horsemen, have the great patriotic duty of encouraging the breeding of horses in this state. New York has proved itself peculiarly adapted to the raising of them. It is part of your work to talk to the farmer and bring these facts before him as you go about on your daily patrols. The farmers form the framework on which our civic body is built. They need the horse. Our country needs the horse. Our army needs the horse. There were in the United States 22,000,000 horses of all classes at the beginning of the war, but of this number only about one-seventh were of the type for army use. One and one-quarter million of these have been sold to the allies besides what our own army is using. It takes six years to breed and raise a horse old enough to begin work in the army.

Our supply will be depleted soon and it behooves every American who is able to help in the breeding industry to do his part in meeting a shortage which is already felt.

The Germans claim that the reason their great drive in March fell short of its objective was because there were not enough horses to transport supplies, and draw the big guns behind the German lines. Since then the Central Powers have taken over the great horse supply of Russia. We must think of this and plan ahead and not wait until it is too late.

This department has the honor of having the Jockey Club of America present to the United States Army the fact that we are the first organization to begin a movement for breeding horses of the type that will be of use to the farmer and at the same time can be bought and used by the army. We feel proud, and justly so, of this and it should stimulate us to further effort in bringing before the people of the state of New York the patriotic necessity of this industry.

As the horse helped save France at the Marne, so is he helping us today in the great task before us. Without his strength and patience we would be powerless, but with him to help us in our farming and in our fighting, we shall most surely win the war.

ALL HAIL THE HORSE!
GEO. F. CHANDLER,
Superintendent.

Free Was Lecture Tonight.

Occasionally we hear that people are getting tired of attending war lectures and hearing so much about the war. It is impossible to imagine a German citizen claiming to hear too much about the war and its progress. And when one considers that our very liberty as well as the lives of our men, the best of our young men, today, perhaps our own lives tomorrow are jeopardized to the limit by the war, it is hard to understand why we should yet have heard too much about the war. Knowledge is and always has been power. Therefore it is well for us to know all that we can of the world conflict in which we, as a people, are engaged. Tonight at the Kingston High School Auditorium, the people of this community will be privileged to hear of hospital life and work at the front from one who served there during the first six months of the war, Dr. Elizabeth Matthews. She has things to tell that it would be well for us to hear. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

Canning Helps.

So far as it is practicable, housekeepers are being urged by the state college of agriculture to preserve fruits this summer in other ways than as rich preserves and jellies. Many fruits and vegetables may be dried successfully. If fruits are thoroughly sterilized and completely sealed, they will keep perfectly even if no sugar is used, says the college. However, since sugar must be added some time before the fruit is used, it is generally most conveniently added at the time of canning. But strong preserves are not necessary. A light syrup allows the flavor of the fruit to predominate and gives a sauce that is both wholesome and palatable. Corn syrup may be used to replace some of the sugar. Corn syrup, however, is not so sweet as sugar and consequently in general cannot replace it completely. Honey is excellent sweetening for certain fruits.

Ulster Nurses Graduated.

MOTION DENIED IN MACKEY EXCISE CASE

Through His Attorney He Asked for a Certificate of Reasonable Doubt
—Case Was Tried at the County Court Here.

County Judge James Jenkins has denied the motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt, made by A. D. Lept, attorney for Wesley A. Mackey, convicted in the county court of having sold beer in the license town of Lloyd and sentenced by Judge Jenkins to the county jail for thirty days and to pay a fine of $200.

The opinion denying the motion contains an interesting review of the salient points of the judge's charge. The opinion is as follows:

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF
ULSTER

The People of the State of New York against Wesley A. Mackey.

Motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

This motion is made by the defendant for the certificate provided for in Section 527 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and should be granted if there is reasonable doubt whether the judgment should stand and not otherwise. This motion was originally made on the 6th day of May, 1918, and has been adjourned by agreement of counsel to this date. I shall immediately proceed to decide it for sometimes justice delayed means justice denied. The defendant has been convicted of violating the Liquor Tax Law (in that he unlawfully sold larger beer in the town of Lloyd a no licensed town on July 25th last.) He was sentenced to be imprisoned in the Ulster county jail for thirty days and to pay a fine of two hundred dollars. The defendant urges six grounds, as errors upon which he asks me to say that there is a reasonable doubt that the judgment should stand. The act charged is a crime is plainly set forth and appears the defendant or the time, place and circumstances sufficient to enable him to prepare his defense. In my opinion there is no doubt that the judgment meets the test of sufficiency, prescribed by Section 284 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Secondly, The defendant alleges that there was no competent proof to show that the town of Lloyd was a no licensed town. The evidence shows without peradventure that on July 25th, 1917 the town of Lloyd was a no licensed town.

Third, It is further alleged that the court erred in admitting the certificate of the town clerk showing the result of the vote of the People of the town of Lloyd upon the excise question submitted. I am of the same opinion upon that question that I was upon the trial.

Fourth, If there was an error in a single statement in my charge I think it was cured by what followed the error complained of that portion of the charge in which I stated "It is the duty of the defendant to sell the beer in a no licensed town."

The town of Lloyd, your verdict will be guilty. "The" a definite article and refers to specific beer. The former part of the charge and the testimony related to beer that was sold on the 25th day of July, 1917, at the defendant's hotel and furthermore the subsequent part of the charge informed the jury that before their verdict the defendant guilty they must find that the sale was made at the time and place charged in the indictment, which was the main question submitted to them as follows: "Second, Did the defendant traffic in liquor as alleged in the indictment?" The answer, did he sell beer to the People's trustees Van Zandt and Leonard at or near the hotel on the 25th day of July, 1917? If you find that he did, your verdict will be guilty. If you find that he did not, your verdict will be "not guilty."

The jury found the defendant guilty. The fifth and sixth grounds urged as error are a reasonable doubt that the judgment of conviction should stand, and that it was error to create the testimony of Eisenburger as to the customary method of distribution of Pubst beer and that the jurors who rendered the verdict were guilty of misconduct respectively. I deem not of sufficient importance to warrant any discussion.

Further the Legislature of the State of New York have in order to avoid misapprehension of justice on account of more technical errors, provided in Section 542 of the Code of Criminal Procedure that upon appeal "the court must give judgment although record to technical errors or defects or to exceptions which do not affect substantial rights of the parties."

This judgment being supported by sufficient allegation and proof, and there being no error affecting a substantial right, there is no reasonable doubt in my mind why it should not stand and, therefore the motion is denied.

JAMES JENKINS
Ulster County Judge.

Shad Easily Taken.

The fishes had some folks has got to eat. They approach the shores in immense schools, actually crowd one another in their efforts to reach the head of the fresh-water streams. Where the spawn is deposited, fishermen learned quickly how to intercept the "run" by nets in the bays and in the broad mouths of rivers, and the market shad are now nearly all caught in this way.

The Slacker's Load.

"The biggest load some folks has got to carry," observed Brother Williams, "is a trip full of excuses for getting out of the right thing at the right time. For instance, if it's wood-cutting day and you ain't got no ax; an' if it's sharpening it, an' if do grindstone; an' if do well's gone dry an' dey's no water ter wet it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

BROADWAY STORES CHANGES HANDS

Thursday I. Paradise, the real estate agent of Railroad avenue, closed a $40,000 real estate deal whereby Arthur Pinover, president of a Brooklyn construction company, transferred his 100 acre farm located at Tillson to Lew Fischer of this city for the row of one-story stores at Nos. 221-231 Broadway. The lot has a frontage of 150 feet on Broadway, and a depth of 150 feet.

It is reported that Mr. Pinover contemplates erecting an apartment house on the site when the present store leases expire.

Mr. Pinover negotiated for property in the uptown section of the city on which he contemplated erecting an apartment house, but he failed to make satisfactory arrangements with the property owners.

Same Old Stench on Broadway.

After an absence of but a very short time old "Mr. Stench" is again visiting lower Broadway. Some days the stench from the sewer outlets is so strong that it reminds the business men of the stories of the "gas" used by the Huns on the battle front. Time and time again this stench has been reported to the city authorities but nothing ever comes of it. Either the city officials are unable to locate where the stench comes from or are lax in their duties, is the opinion generally expressed down town.

WANTS TO MEET HIM.

Kingston Widow Lady Inquires About Olive Bridge "Wider by Death."

Tuesday The Freeman printed a pathetic appeal from a lonely Olive Bridge "Wider by Death" who "needs some one to keep house." Since the appeal was printed The Freeman has received a number of inquiries, but has been unable to satisfactorily answer them as the "Wider by Death" failed to state his name, and the quickest route to his house. The latest inquiry was received today from a widow lady who is working out and would make a good housekeeper she says for the Olive Bridge lonely man. The society editor who received the "phone message" gathered from her conversation that she was real anxious to get in touch with him and ascertain fuller particulars.

Another Home Nursing Class.

Already so many have joined the newly formed Red Cross elementary hygiene and home nursing class, under Miss Lampman's instruction, that the class is over full. Furthermore there are some members who will be able to attend in the afternoon only and some who can only attend in the evening. So far only the organization class has been held. Therefore if there are other women in the city, as there doubtless are, who wish to join in this patriotic work, they may do so by attending the class next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Kingston City Hospital. At this time, if there is a sufficient number enrolled, the classes will be arranged, the one to meet afternoons, the other evenings for the duration of the course.

ANTI-LOAFING LAW HAS THEM GUESSING

No Person Seems to Exactly Understand It—Will Clerks And Others Have to Seek "Productive" Employment—Women Bartenders a Possibility Next Month.

Kingston business men and employees are very much puzzled, and many of them worried, about the anti-loafing law that goes into effect the first of next month. So broad are the terms of the law that a number of men who have retired from business are wondering if they do not get back in some useful business it will result in them being held for the violation of the law.

Idlers, not only the men who are professional "gentlemen of leisure," but men who are earning a honest living and working every day of the week but Sunday, and some of them on Sunday as well, are between the fires of the state and federal governments, but the plans by which each intends to enforce the law, are different. The government "work or fight" order applies only to the men within the draft age. In the state the order "work or go to jail" applies to all able bodied men between eighteen and fifty.

Local business men and employees are wondering how broadly the law will be interpreted as applied to "non-essential" employment, ruled by Provost Marshal General Crowder to apply to the following occupations: Persons engaged in serving food or drink, or either, including public places and social clubs; passenger elevators and attendants; doormen, footmen, carriage drivers and other attendants in hotels, office buildings and bath houses; ushers and other attendants engaged and occupied in and in connection with games, sports and amusements, excepting actual performances in legitimate concerts, operas or theatrical performances; persons employed in domestic service, sales clerks and other clerks employed in stores and other mercantile establishments.

There are only a few reasons that will be accepted for idleness or unproductive employment. They include reasonable vacation, illness, and lack of reasonable employment, outside of the types of employment listed as non-essential.

The anti-loafing law declares that no person shall be excused from accepting any proposed employment on the ground that the compensation is not adequate, if the wage is equal to that paid others in the same locality for the same kind of work.

Cafe proprietors and bartenders are "up a tree," so as to speak, for they do not know just where they will stand after the first of next month. Women bartenders may solve the problem of serving the "spirits," but this is hardly practical under the present labor laws.

The result of the new law will be to open up many positions to women, especially in the stores. Local store proprietors are wondering whether their male employees within the draft age will be forced to other employment, or whether the law will be enforced on an even broader scale, and their male help between eighteen and fifty (the age set by the government order) will have to seek "productive" employment. There are many complicated features presented by the new law, and no person seems to definitely understand its provisions. A number of test cases will probably be instituted throughout the state and the country to test the constitutionality of the law.

THE KITCHEN CABINET
All that mankind has done, thought, gained or been, is lying in magic preservation in the pages of books—Carlyle.

CORNMEAL DISHES.
A most satisfactory breakfast food is a simple cornmeal mush. Cook for an hour or longer. Where it is possible to get corn meal with the whole of the corn ground by the old process, (not the kiln-dried corn) it will be found most satisfying.

The drawback to such meal is that it does not keep and so must be fresh. Spider Corn Cake.—Take one and a half cups of cornmeal, a half cup of flour, a teaspoonful of soda, a half teaspoonful of salt and one egg. Mix thoroughly, then pour into a hot iron spider which has been well greased with two tablespoonfuls of shortening. Let stand on top of the stove for a few minutes until well cooked on the bottom, then place on the upper grate of the oven and finish baking.

Corn Muffins.—Take a cupful of cornmeal, a cupful of sweet milk, one-half cupful of flour, two eggs, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a half teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of shortening. Beat the eggs separately, adding the yolks with the milk, then all the dry ingredients sifted together.

John Harvard's History Traced.
Until modern times, says the London Graphic, John Harvard was "the Melchizedek of New England." He was "without father, without mother, without descent." So profound was the ignorance concerning the founder of America's first and greatest university, that an offer of a princely reward for "five lines of definite information" about him went unclaimed. Gradually, however, the labors of various industrious investigators bore fruit, until today John Harvard is a real figure of American history, whose footprints on English soil are clearly legible.

Primitive Plow.
Even at the present time modern plows are practically unknown in Egypt, and all that is used is a log with a wooden hook, the end of which is steel-pointed. Any animals available, from a donkey to a camel, constitute the team, and sometimes even a camel and a bullock are seen pulling together.

Asking Favors.
When you ask a favor, act as if you expected it would be granted. A request that is unreasonable ought not to be made at all, and if it is reasonable, give people the credit for being ready to help. We pay our friends a poor compliment when we ask a little favor with an air of expecting that they are going to refuse.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

It would not surprise any of those who work under the city hall dome if the police board at the meeting this evening appointed Lester Legg to fill the vacancy on the force caused by the death of Officer John G. Boyd, and also decided to equip the department with one or more motorcycles so that speed violators could be the more easily caught. The motorcycle idea is not new, but has been suggested by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood in his annual reports to the police board in other years.

Since Officer Ray Saehloff returned from his annual vacation he has been busy making the circuit of the city checking up the dog census and those who obtained licenses, and those who have unlicensed dogs.

But fifteen women aliens have registered so far this week at police headquarters. The women have until the 26th to register, but are urged to register before that time so that there will not be a rush on the last days of registration.

City Judge Schirick has received word from his brother, George, who was wounded on the firing line, that he was out of the hospital and was back in the trenches again with his company in France.

The water board made its annual inspection of the water shed on Thursday making the trip in automobiles. They found conditions first-class.

There were no cases in police court this morning.

Officer James V. Connelly found a pocketbook this morning near the Y. M. C. A. and left it at police headquarters.

Thursday seven more cases of measles were reported to the health board.

PATRIOTIC MUSIC.

Kingston Point Music Quickens Interest of Soldiers and Civilians.

It is of frequent occurrence to hear as one goes about town, of the interest being taken in the band concerts being given on Sunday afternoons by our Colonial City Band at Kingston Point. This interest is shown not only by the civilian population but by the soldiers or sailors who, home on furlough, go down to the Point to listen to the patriotic music on the programs given. In connection with this matter of patriotic or even more specifically, military music, some of our most conservative and reliable periodicals have recently been calling attention to the effect which our patriotic songs and military music are having upon our soldiers and sailors, publishing extracts from the men in service relative to the matter. Here are just a few pithy sentences quoted from such letters:

"The songs that we sing sustain and keep up the 'big pep' that will lead us on to victory 'over there'."

"There is nothing like a good band and we have a crackjack, to restore our spirits and freshen exhausted bodies."

"Music has made more men soldiers than all the recruiting speeches and recruiting posters. When all else has failed, the crashing, inspiring note of a band have cheered them on. The tune may be 'It's a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight,' it may be 'Tipperary' or it may be 'Marseilles.' It's music. Soldiers' music. And soldiers respond to it as they do to nothing else."

Realizing the influence at this critical period in our country's history, of such music the men above have described, every community does well to furnish to its citizens such musical programs, band rendered, as we have at Kingston Point on Sunday afternoons.

HOMESPUN YARN.

Preserves are reserves, ready to be called out next winter. Are you exhausting?

A few dozen eggs put down in water glass in your cellar now will be like dollars in your pocketbook next winter.

You should not only buy wheat substitutes, but use them. Remember why you are asked to use them, and you will find a way.

Now, "When Potatoes are Plentiful" you ought to have the bulletin bearing that title. Your copy is waiting your call at the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. Four name and address and "R. C. F. H. 118" on a postal will bring it to you.

As a soldier a man uses thirteen times more wool than as a civilian. It is estimated. And the soldiers must have the wool. No loyal housewife will buy any more wool than is absolutely necessary, and she will use with great care of the wool she has.

Make two glasses of preserves grow on your pantry shelves where only one grew last year. Rhubarb will help. A small amount of berries, cherries, or other fruit with a large amount of rhubarb makes a good combination.

QUARRYVILLE.

Quarryville, June 20.—Mrs. Charles Carrington and son are visiting at S. W. Teetsel's.

A number of our folks attended Children's Day service at Malden last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Fred Carrington of Schenectady is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Carrington.

A couple of state troopers passed through this place Tuesday. The trustees of the M. E. Church intend to hold a picnic on July 4. There will be a patriotic entertainment by local talent in the evening.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Dairy Division,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dairy Division, urges the people to eat more Cottage Cheese. It supplies more protein than the same weight of beef, pork, lamb or fowl, when properly manufactured from pasturized milk.

The method of manufacture, the pasteurizing, clarifying and cooling equipment of the Kingston Creamery, together with the care of the products of the same, have been carefully inspected. They are strictly in accordance with the Federal requirements for the production of a pure, palatable and nourishing food of the highest quality.

The liberal use of the Milk, Cottage Cheese. Buttermilk and Butter of the Kingston Creamery is earnestly recommended, not only because of their healthful value, but also from the standpoint of patriotism in this critical period of shortage of meat.

W. S. S. DRIVE BEGINS TOMORROW

The great War Savings Stamp drive begins tomorrow. The organization of workers who will comb the city and county during the ensuing week is in fighting trim. They are all regular Sherlock Holmes. They are the best men for the work that can be obtained in every district in the county. They will not miss a person. They have been fully instructed personally by Chairman Brinnier and his personal escort of zealous and well informed men who have devoted all their time in going through the county and addressing the several teams and captains.

The Freeman has fully described from time to time all of the details of this coming drive. How the stamps can be purchased, their value at maturity and how payments may be made by those who sign pledge cards.

The organization of War Savings Stamp Societies in shops and stores has been effected generally so that there are working and have been working for several days a great many men and women who are not drafted in the team work that is to begin tomorrow.

The results have been marvellously large. It is a surety that the final results, the great aggregate of pledges and cash sales, will astonish the public. The allotment to the county is larger than any allotment made in a previous campaign for war funds. That it will be reached is hardly to be doubted in view of the reputation old Ulster has achieved for "Going Over the Top."

As has been stated not an adult in the city and county will be passed by, citizen or no citizen. All will be frankly informed that everyone is expected to invest in these War Savings Stamps, alien as well as citizen. That it is their duty to do this, that in this way for money must be had to win the war. They will also be advised that refusals to pledge or buy will be carefully looked into. That explanations will be made with all refusals. The mayor has issued a proclamation and public order yesterday by the Freeman, in which he urges, June 28th, the last day of the drive, no registration day and has fixed the places in which registrations will be taken in every ward. Everyone who has failed to invest in the stamps since their issue will be expected to explain at the registration places their reasons for not so doing.

Many do not understand all that this means for many inquiries have been made at the Freeman office. It is simple. If you have not at any time invested in these stamps you are expected to go to the registration places on that day and tell why. The tabulation of these registrants will be made and sent to Washington. Enemy aliens may subscribe if they desire. Those of that class who are living in this country, personally assist and peace and none the less morally obligated to help save the country by contributing to its war necessities. Such is also the moral duty of all citizens. But the citizen has a higher duty in this matter and cannot be excused except at the best of reasons. All who have at any time bought and pledged for these stamps will be so credited as well as those who come in on the drive. Nobody will be excused short of buying or pledging to buy a War Savings Stamp worth at maturity $5.

The day after tomorrow, Saturday, at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. During the course of the drive many men of national celebrity are expected to be present and address these gatherings.

This letter was sent out by County Chairman Wm. D. Brinnier today to every school superintendent in the county.

Dear Sir:—On June 15, 1918, Governor Whitman issued a proclamation on designated June 28, between 12 noon and 10 p. m. at the time when all patriotic citizens shall appear at the nearest school house in person or by proxy to register pledges to save and economize to help win this war and to fulfill such pledges by investing in war saving certificates.

I hereby request you to have the school houses in your district opened at the time mentioned and have some one present to register those who appear and report same to me as county chairman. You must not fail in your duty.

WM. D. BRINNIER,
County Chairman.

SKINNER SPEAKS TO STATE BANKERS

By Telegram to The Freeman. Atlantic City, N. J., June 21.—The utmost co-operation of all bankers of the country in financing the world's war and preparing for the financial problems after the war, was urged by State Superintendent of Banks George I. Skinner of New York addressing the New York State Bankers' Association in convention here today.

He told the bankers that while war is a subject given but little consideration by bankers, this war is of engrossing interest. "Dollars mean munitions and the banks have become the very arsenal of power," he declared. "Billions upon billions of dollars have been spent and further billions are to be asked for in the near future, and upon the banks and bankers of the country are thrown burdens and responsibilities second only to those of the men who risk their lives in the trenches, in the air, upon the seas and under the seas."

There is no way, he said, of relieving the strain that may yet be placed upon our banking systems either during or at the close of the war. "This much is sure, that the utmost co-operation should prevail between the banks and bankers of the country and those charged with their supervision, in order that we may be able to meet successfully all the demands that may in the future be made upon the banking resources of the country during the war, and even more troubled period financially which may possibly follow."

Anyone who proposes radical changes in the banking laws or banking systems of the country at this time, he said, courts disaster. He entered vigorous protest against styling the war "Wall Street's War" and "A Rich Man's War," but said that the bankers of New York know long before war was declared that war was inevitable.

"Some men are still prating about the moral issues of the war. There are no moral issues to this war. The present war is wholly immoral. Hatched in the criminal minds of the dregs of the Hohenzollern and Hapsburg lines, it is a war of barbarism against civilization, of darkness against light, and we are fighting today not for any fine-spun theories, not for the democracy of the murderous Bolsheviks of Russia, but because we must, for our very existence, for the freedom of our sons and our sons' sons and for the protection of our daughters from outrage and shame. The Prussian has already brought the war to our shores, and if we had not entered the war, he would still have brought it further and further. At his own chosen time, he would have overrun our fertile fields and ravaged our prosperous cities. Then we would have been face to face with this modern monster of savagery alone, for the chivalrous French armies and the sturdy armies of Britain would have already been blotted from the earth."

The war, he said, must be won at any cost. He warned the bankers they must become politicians, not merely financiers, and he urged legislation "which might be dangerous as the loss of any army."

Nickel Nearly Caused Accident.

While riding down Clinton avenue this noon on a trolley car a young boy dropped a nickel. The boy jumped from the car while it was going quite fast. He landed on the pavement almost in front of a big delivery truck that was passing, and the presence of mind of the driver of the truck, who applied the brakes in record time, saved the boy from being struck. The boy recovered the nickel and stood cooly waiting for another trolley to come along.

First Day of Summer.

According to the almanac this is the first day of summer, and incidentally the longest day of the year. However, judging from the atmospheric conditions one would think it was the first day of October.

Boy Killed by Auto.

Thursday night George Lucas, the 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lucas, residing at Kisdon, was struck by an automobile driven by Edward Vager of Kisdon and died before he could receive medical attention. The boy had been fishing and ran down an embankment in front of the automobile.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, June 21.—There was a show of strength at the opening of the stock market today, with slight advances made in the leading issues but within a few minutes the demand diminished and prices generally went downward. Steel Common rose 1/4 to 106 1/2 followed by a recession to 106 1/2. The other steel stocks moved up in the same way.

Bethlehem Steel showing an opening advance of 1/4 at 84 1/2, and then dropping to 83 1/2. Most interest was attached to the trading in United Cigar Stores which was in brisk demand advancing 1 1/2 to 100 1/2. Cuban Cane Sugar was another strong feature advancing 3/4 to 32 1/2. Pittsburgh and West Virginia continued active and strong, making a further gain of one point to 38 1/4. Wabash Common was also strong, advancing 1/2 to 9 1/2.

Trading was active all through the forenoon with little change, several stocks selling at new high records. Steel Common moved up to 107 1/2, the highest price touched since it sold. Other steel industrials made gains of about one point. United Cigar Stores continued in brisk demand, moving up 2 1/2 to 102 1/4. Many of the low priced railway issues were unusually active. Liberty Bonds were weak, the 4 1/2's selling down to 95.68 and the second 4's to 93.36. The stock market closed heavy today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

OLD TIME REMINDER.

Tobin's Old Bake Shop Brought to Mind in Old Relief.

J. E. Kiersted, agent for the Hutten Realty, while superintending the digging out of the yard in the rear of I. Ginzburg's on Broadway, observed a large flat stone, which he caused to be uncovered. It was a grave stone bearing the inscription, "To the Memory of Charlotte, Wife of Nathan Anderson, who died Sept. 7, 1845, aged 52 years and 21 days."

Dr. Stern, the oculist and optometrist, recalls the bakery that Timothy Tobin formerly conducted on the premises now occupied by Ginzburg; about 22 years ago, the doctor says.

This grave stone shaped and weather stained like hundreds of others to be seen in the old cemeteries around Kingston was laid in the ground with its lettered side underneath and was under Tobin's old oven.

Tim Tobin in his day was the hearty Irish lad best known in Roundout, whose ringing laughter, loudly flung repartee when quibbled on the streets were incidents of typical individualism that went the rounds, some to this day.

LIMITED SERVICE MEN NOT TAKEN

From New York State Under Recent Special Calls—Estimated That There Are About 200,000 Men Throughout Country in Limited Class.

Local board for Division 2 of Ulster county, has received a bulletin from the adjutant general's office stating that no men from this state have been accepted for special calls for limited service men to get out spruce timber in the northwest. These men were to be assigned to the signal corps for service in spruce production for aeroplanes.

The bulletin also stated that men for the following occupations, under these special calls, (limited service men only) were not accepted by the provost marshal general: automobile mechanic, chauffeur, clerks, electricians, locomotive engineers, stationary engineers, surveyors, telephone linemen, steamfitters and draftsmen.

According to the bulletin applicants under these calls may be released and permitted induction under any calls for which they are qualified. At this time there is no call on for limited service men for voluntary enlistment.

Under three calls for limited service men there are the following vacancies: Call 691, 2 brakemen; Call 692, 2 locomotive repairmen; Call 705, 4 steam shovel operators. These men will be sent to Vancouver Barracks, Vancouver, Washington. The local board is instructed to wire for permission to entrain.

These special calls mentioned were the first calls for limited service men, and it is probable that other calls will be issued soon. The provost marshal general estimates that there are about 200,000 men in the country held for limited services.

Urged to Pray for Victory.

The meeting of the Women's Auxiliaries of the three Episcopal churches, held at St. John's parish house, this week, and which was largely attended, was unique in character. The object of the meeting was to present to the women of the community what in the Episcopal Church is known as "The Advent Call." This call will be a call to more frequent, more urgent prayer on the part of the women for the safety of our fighting men and those of our allies; for the success of our armies and for the ultimate victory of Christianity, humanity and democracy to the end of a permanent world peace. Beginning this summer women in each Episcopal Church will be prepared to be ready when the Advent Call comes to go from house to house urging upon the women of the homes to be more earnest and constant in their prayers for their country's and the world's liberation. The speakers were Mrs. Ramsdell of Newburgh, Mrs. Hasbrouck of Rosendale and Mrs. Ackersly of Grace church, New York city. The meeting was certainly an inspiring one.

ad service. The Officers of Adams Street James Redican of Adams Street received orders to report to the Naval Reserve Training Station at Pelham Bay Park, on Monday, June 24.

Rides Horseback to Court.

Judge A. H. F. Seeger, of the New York supreme court, and a member of the Goshen Driving Club, has received a custom of pre-railroad days in riding on horseback from his home in Newburgh to the court house in White Plains. His mount is a mare by the thoroughbred race horse, Mexican, with ease in the fifty mile trip with ease in a day over mountain roads part of the way, states the American Horse Breeder in a recent issue.

Mr. Closs made a great impression on the attentive audience by his marvelous bell ringing talent, his monologues, impersonations and literary and elocutionary productions he held the riveted attention of all and brought out many pictures of every day life in youth and old age. In fact every one was sorry to have the entertainment close, as from start to finish too much praise cannot be given him for bringing to the people of Port Ewen a real treat.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, June 20.—A Fourth of July festival will be held at the Samsonville Hall, afternoon and evening. Refreshments of all kinds will be for sale. A fine supper will be provided. Everybody invited to attend.

Four of the school students, Mabel Van Etten, Mildred Moore, Orpha Kelder and Susie Kelder, are attending regents examinations at Tongore. We listened to a very interesting sermon Friday evening, delivered by the Rev. W. H. Seiple. Subject, "The Prodigal Son."

Those who attended service at Leithardt Sunday evening enjoyed the sermon very much, given by Evangelist McKee.

Mrs. W. G. Moore and Mrs. L. Elmdorf visited Mrs. Noah Barringer Saturday evening.

The Rev. G. W. Thompson was assisted by the Rev. A. Quick at the preaching service on June 9. We listened to a very instructive sermon by Mr. Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis from South Bend, Ind., called on their uncle, J. H. Bevier, coming by auto from Kingston.

The superintendent of the Sunday school invites each member to bring a new scholar.

We would like to correct some mistakes made in the Red Cross report of Olive, District No. 3: Eliza Shur-

The manufacturer who uses Gas as Industrial Fuel is accomplishing two noteworthy results.

He is operating along lines which are both modern and efficient.

He is performing a patriotic service by contributing to the conservation of national resources.

The first result is achieved because Gas is the ideal industrial fuel—clean, no waste, easy control, perfect heat regulation, occupies no storage space, requires no handling, ties up no capital in fuel, brings relief from fuel shortage problems.

The second result is accomplished because coal, coke or oil, as utilized in the manufacture of Gas, release the greatest possible number of heat units. In addition to this, the valuable by-products of tar and ammonia, of vital importance in the making of munitions, are preserved in the manufacture of Gas. They are lost when coal, coke or oil are privately consumed.

For the good of the nation and yourself use Gas as Industrial Fuel. Phone 1400

HORSES FOR ARMY OF FARM TYPE WANTED

Lucrative Industry in Breeding
Horses Open to Farmers and Stock
Raisers in All Sections in Small as Well as Large Way.

A strong appeal is going out to farmers, country gentlemen and horse breeders to raise horses for the army.

The United States army and, as far as that is concerned, all armies now operating in this war, are in great need of horses. Aside from the immense losses that occur in the war zone there has not been from the start, beginning with the declaration of war made by the allied nations, a sufficiency of horses. Canada and the States were combined from ocean to ocean in 1914 with unsatisfactory results. While the army mule is necessary for many purposes, for other purposes horses are indispensable.

Agents numerously employed by the several governments find conditions getting worse. Horses of the kind needed in the service cannot be obtained. The only relief that can be obtained is for the breeding of horses to be revived all over the country. To owners of farms and ranches it will prove lucrative. Wherever there are meadows and pastures every owner can do a patriotic service profitable to himself by raising as many horses as his circumstances and the conditions around him warrant.

The government will stand back of him. Even our eastern farmers, the farmers of Ulster, can do this important service for every little helps. A half dozen colts can readily be raised on many of our farms without disturbing the regular line of agriculture that is being carried along.

The appeal now being made from Washington is for a large membership in the Army Horse Association. The secretary, W. K. Bush-Brown, has headquarters at 1729 G street, Washington, D. C., to whom letters of inquiry can be addressed. Inquiries addressed to Major G. F. Chandler, the president of the association, State Constabulary, Albany, will doubtless be cheerfully answered. It will be shown to every inquirer how the raising of horses for the army can be made to pay.

A letter from the secretary of the association received by Maj. Chandler conveys the information that the horse owners who have been heard from are enthusiastic for making horse breeding for the army a large industry throughout the country.

The type of horses required are also useful for farm labor so that whether or not the war is prolonged, the market for this army-farm type of horses will be attractive and good prices will prevail for years.

The Army Horse Association has for its object the getting together for purchase by the army horses of the type for cavalry and light and heavy artillery. Also to stimulate the breeding of such animals by the farmer for his own use, as well as for the army. The government will always be ready to buy his horses.

"Thousands of such horses will be needed later on," says a letter received from the Army Horse Association headquarters at Washington. "The universal military training will without doubt follow this war. The government cannot possibly own all the horses which will be required later, therefore the people should breed and own horses which are of use to themselves now and will be available for the army when needed."

The State Constabulary of New York started such a movement last fall under the direction of its commander, Major George F. Chandler. Because this work had already shown promise of success, Major Chandler was asked to explain it at a meeting held in Washington recently, where his knowledge of the situation and the promise it holds out for a successful agitation of the subject, so recommended itself to the army authorities that he was elected president of the association, which includes army officers of high station and commissionaires of horses, such as Prof. J. J. Hooper, of Kentucky, the vice president of the association; Joseph A. Murphy, of St. Louis, Mo., second vice president; M. W. Harper, Cornell University, third vice president.

The United States is to be divided into fourteen zones, each under a director with sub-directors. Breeding farms will be located in different parts of the country. Members of the association will receive bulletins and instructions from time to time. The army agrees to buy all horses raised according to these instructions at a fixed price. Endurance tests will be made from time to time of horses from every part of the country.

The advantage of entering into the breeding of horses under these conditions with all who undertake it where horses are bred of the common sturdy stock is that fancy prices will not be charged for foals. The army horse type is the best for general utility farm purpose. Besides, the breeder will be guaranteed a price that will pay him well, and will have access to instructions and advice from government sources.

This is no fancy or racing horse proposition. The association will in no way interest itself in racing or the breeding of horses for speed. The call of the government is behind it. The Indispensable Horse.

The following bulletin on the subject of horses has been issued by Major Chandler:

State of New York.
New York State Troopers,
Capitol Building, Albany.
Bulletin No. 5.

As man developed, his first achievement was his mastery of the lower animals.

The dog came first under his domination, and willingly assumed the role of companion, and has remained his true friend for centuries. Next came the horse and many other beasts of burden, such as the camel, elephant, ox, donkey, ostrich, all of which have been used in different countries as carriers for man, but among them the horse stands supreme.

Don't be dazzled by the wonders of mechanical transportation. Remember that the steam railroad runs upon tracks and must follow prescribed lines, that the automobile depends upon roads and in a measure upon weather, that tractors are expensive and are only of use in big undertakings and in highly civilized localities where mechanics are available and supplies and equipment are easily obtainable. Such places are few in number throughout the great inhabited area of this world.

Don't forget that the horse can go where all mechanical means fail and in all kinds of weather. He has always been and will continue to be man's surest means of transportation.

We were put here for some purpose and so was the horse and no matter how clever man may be, he cannot overcome the plans of his Creator. Inventions may change the drift of civilization, but they never conquer Nature, which can, by means of wind or snow, or electrical disturbance or even continued cold weather clog the movements of any kind of transportation machine man has made.

When man came out of barbarism, he found that he must have laws, and by maintaining these laws he became civilized. To maintain them properly he had to have a repressive force or police.

Civilization has found that police is as necessary to its life as food is to the individual. Early records show that the agents of law were horsemen. They were so at first and they will continue so to be in a degree throughout the world, especially in rural districts.

So it is today in the army. While there are numberless new instruments of warfare, and many new ways of moving troops and supplies, the horse and mule are still the main means of transportation in the field. It was the cavalry that saved the day at the battle of the Marne. The horse at that time helped save democracy from tyranny. The horse has always stood for democracy, because he is common to all races and all classes of men.

Now we, who are horsemen, have the great patriotic duty of encouraging the breeding of horses in this state. New York has proved itself peculiarly adapted to the raising of them. It is part of your work to talk to the farmer and bring these facts before him as you go about on your daily patrols. The farmers form the framework on which our civic body is built. They need the horse. Our country needs the horse. There were in the United States 22,000,000 horses of all classes at the beginning of the war, but of this number only about one-seventh were of the type for army use. One and one-quarter million of these have been sold to the allies besides what our own army is using. It takes six years to breed and raise a horse old enough to begin work in the army.

Our supply will be depleted soon and it behooves every American who is able to help in the breeding industry to do his part in meeting a shortage which is already felt.

The Germans claim that the reason their great drive in March fell short of its objective was because there were not enough horses to transport supplies, and draw the big guns behind the German lines. Since then the Central Powers have taken over the great horse supply of Russia. We must think of this and plan ahead and not wait until it is too late.

This department has the honor of having the Jockey Club of America present to the United States Army the fact that we are the first organization to begin a movement for breeding horses of the type that will be of use to the farmer and at the same time can be bought and used by the army. We feel proud, and justly so, of this and it should stimulate us to further effort in bringing before the people of the state of New York the patriotic necessity of this industry.

As the horse helped save France at the Marne, so he is helping us today in the great task before us. With his strength and patience, we would be powerless, but with him to help us in our farming and in our fighting, we shall most surely win the war.

ALL HAIL THE HORSE!
GEO. F. CHANDLER,
Superintendent.

Free Was Lecture Tonight.

Occasionally we hear that people are getting tired of attending war lectures and hearing of the horrors of the war. It is impossible to imagine a German citizen claiming to hear too much about the war and its progress. And when one considers that our very liberty as well as the lives of our men, the best of our young men, today, perhaps our own lives tomorrow, are jeopardized by the war, it is hard to see how anyone can be so selfish as to say that he has heard too much about the war.

Therefore it is worth for us to know that we can do our part in the world conflict in which we are so preoccupied. Tonight at the Kingston High School Auditorium the people of this community will be privileged to hear of a man who served there during the war, Dr. Elizabeth Matthews. She has things to tell that it would be well for us to hear. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

Canning Helps.

So far as it is practical, home canners are being urged by the state college of agriculture to preserve the fruit this summer in other ways than as rich preserves and jellies.

Many fruits and vegetables may be dried successfully. If fruits are of Milton, thoroughly sterilized and completely sealed, they will keep perfectly even if no sugar is used, says the college.

However, since sugar must be added some time before the fruit is used, it is generally most conveniently added at the time of canning. But strong preserves are not necessary. A light syrup all the flavor of the fruit to predominate and gives a sauce that is both wholesome and palatable.

Corn syrup may be used to replace some of the sugar. Corn syrup, however, is not so sweet as sugar and consequently in general cannot replace it completely. Honey is excellent sweetener for certain fruits.

BROADWAY STORES CHANGES HANDS

Thursday I. Paradise, the real estate agent of Railroad avenue, closed a $40,000 real estate deal whereby Arthur Pinover, president of a Brooklyn construction company, transferred his 100 acre farm located at Tillson to Lew Fischer of this city for the row of one-story stores at Nos. 221-231 Broadway. The lot has a frontage of 160 feet on Broadway, and a depth of 150 feet.

It is reported that Mr. Pinover contemplates erecting an apartment house on the site when the present store leases expire.

Mr. Pinover negotiates for property in the uptown section of the city on which he contemplated erecting an apartment house, but he failed to make satisfactory arrangements with the property owners.

Same Old Stench on Broadway.

After an absence of but a very short time old "Mr. Stench" is again visiting lower Broadway. Some days the stench from the sewer outlets is so strong that it reminds the business men of the stories of the "gas" used by the Huns on the battle front. Time and time again this stench has been reported to the city authorities but nothing ever comes of it. Either the city officials are unable to locate where the stench comes from or are lax in their duties, is the opinion generally expressed down town.

WANTS TO MEET HIM.

Kingston Widow Lady Inquires About Olive Bridge "Wider by Death."

Tuesday The Freeman printed a pathetic appeal from a lonely Olive Bridge "Wider by Death" who "heades some one to keep house." Since the appeal was printed The Freeman has received a number of inquiries, but has been unable to satisfactorily answer them as the "Wider by Death" failed to state his name, and the quickest route to his house. The latest inquiry was received today from a widow lady who is working out and would make a good housekeeper she says for the Olive Bridge lonely man. The society editor who received the "phone message gathered from her conversation that she was real anxious to get in touch with him and ascertain fuller particulars.

Another Home Nursing Class.

Already so many have joined the newly formed Red Cross elementary hygiene and home nursing class, under Miss Lampman's instruction, that the class is over full. Furthermore there are some members who will be able to attend in the afternoon only and some who can only attend in the evening. So far only the organization class has been held. Therefore if there are other women in the city, as there doubtless are, who wish to join in this patriotic work, they may do so by attending the class next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Kingston City Hospital. At this time, if there is a sufficient number enrolled, the classes will be arranged, the one to meet afternoons, the other evenings for the duration of the course.

ANTI-LOAFING LAW HAS THEM GUESSING

No Person Seems to Exactly Understand It—Will Clerks And Others Have to Seek "Productive" Employment—Women Bartenders a Possibility Next Month.

Kingston business men and employees are very much puzzled, and many of them worried, about the anti-loafing law that goes into effect the first of next month. So broad are the terms of the law that a number of men who have retired from business are wondering if they do not get back in some useful business it will result in them being held for the violation of the law.

Idlers, not only the men who are professional "gentlemen of leisure," but men who are earning a honest living and working every day of the week but Sunday, and some of them on Sunday as well, are between the fires of the state and federal governments, but the plans by which each intends to enforce the law, are different. The government "work or fight" order applies only to the men within the draft age. In the state the order "work or go to jail" applies to all able bodied men between eighteen and fifty.

Local business men and employees are wondering how broadly the law will be interpreted as applied to "non-essential" employment, ruled by Provost Marshal General Crowder to apply to the following occupations: Persons engaged in serving food or drink, or either, including public places and social clubs; passenger elevators and attendants; doormen, footmen, carriage openers and other attendants in hotels, office buildings and bath houses; ushers and other attendants engaged and occupied in and in connection with games, sports and amusements, excepting actual performances in legitimate concerts, operas or theatrical performances; persons employed in domestic service, sales clerks and other clerks employed in stores and other mercantile establishments.

There are only a few reasons that will be accepted for idleness or unproductive employment. They include reasonable vacation, illness, and lack of reasonable employment, outside of the types of employment listed as non-essential.

The anti-loafing law declares that no person shall be excused from accepting any proposed employment on the ground that the compensation is not adequate, if the wage is equal to that paid others in the same locality for the same kind of work.

Cafe proprietors and bartenders are "up a tree," so as to speak, for they do not know just where they will stand after the first of next month. Women bartenders may solve the problem of serving the "spirits," but this is hardly practical under the present labor laws.

The result of the new law will be to open up many positions to women, especially in the stores. Local store proprietors are wondering whether their male employees within the draft age will be forced to other employment, or whether the law will be enforced on an even broader scale, and their male help between eighteen and fifty (the age set by the government order) will have to seek "productive" employment. There are many complicated features presented by the new law, and no person seems to definitely understand its provisions. A number of test cases will probably be instituted throughout the state and the country to test the constitutionality of the law.

CORNMEAL DISHES.

A most satisfactory breakfast food is a simple cornmeal mush. Cook for an hour or longer. Where it is possible to get corn meal with the whole of the corn ground by the old process, (not the kiln-dried corn) it will be found most satisfying.

The drawback to such meal is that it does not keep and so must be fresh.

Spider Corn Cake.—Take one and a half cupsful of cornmeal, a half cupful of flour, a teaspoonful of soda, a half teaspoonful of salt and one egg. Mix thoroughly, then pour into a hot iron spider which has been well greased with two tablespoonfuls of shortening. Let stand on top of the stove for a few minutes until well cooked on the bottom, then place on the upper grate of the oven and finish baking.

Corn Muffins.—Take a cupful of cornmeal, a cupful of sweet milk, one-half cupful of flour, two eggs, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a half teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of shortening. Beat the eggs separately, adding the yolks with the milk, then all the dry ingredients sift-

John Harvard's History Traced.
Until modern times, says the London Graphic, John Harvard was "the Melchizedek of New England." He was "without father, without mother, without descent." So profound was the ignorance concerning the founder of America's first and greatest university, that an offer of a princely reward for "five lines of definite information" about him went unclaimed. Gradually, however, the labors of various industrious investigators have brought to light John Harvard in a real sense of American history, whose footprints on English soil are clearly legible.

Primitive Plow.
Even at the present time modern plows are practically unknown in Egypt, and all that is used is a log with a wooden hook, the end of which is steel-pointed. An animal available, from a donkey to a camel, constitute the team, and sometimes even a camel and a bullock are seen pulling together.

Asking Favors.
When you ask a favor, act as if you expected it would be granted. A request that is unreasonable ought not to be made at all, and if it is reasonable, give people the credit for being ready to help. We pay our friends a poor compliment when we ask a little favor with an air of expecting that they are going to refuse.

W. S. S. DRIVE BEGINS TOMORROW

The great War Savings Stamp drive begins tomorrow. The organization of workers who will comb the city and county during the ensuing week is in fighting trim. They are all regular Sherlock Holmes. They are the best men for the work that can be obtained in every district in the county. They will not miss a person. They have been fully instructed personally by Chairman Brinnier and his personal escort of zealous and well informed men who have devoted all their time in going through the county and addressing the several teams and captains.

The Freeman has fully described from time to time all of the details of this coming drive. How the stamps can be purchased, their value at maturity and how payments may be made by those who sign pledge cards.

The organization of War Savings Stamp Societies in shops and stores has been effected generally so that there are working and have been working for several days a great many men and women who are not drafted in the team work that is to begin tomorrow.

The results have been marvellously large. It is a surety that the final results, the great aggregate of pledges and cash sales, will astonish the public. The allotment to the county is larger than any allotment made in a previous campaign or war. That it will be reached is hardly to be doubted in view of the reputation old Elletts has achieved for "Going Over the Top."

As has been stated not an adult in the city and county will be passed by, citizen or no citizen. All will be frankly informed that everyone is expected to invest in these War Savings Stamps, as well as every citizen. That it is their duty to do their bit in this way for money must be had to win the war. They will also be advised that refusals to pledge or buy will be carefully looked into. That explanations will be made with all politeness. The mayor has issued a proclamation published yesterday by the Freeman, in which he names June 28th, the last day of the drive, as registration day and has fixed the places in which registrations will be taken in every ward. Everyone who has failed to invest in the stamps since their issue will be expected to explain at the registration places their reasons for not so doing.

Many do not understand all that this means for many inquiries have been made at the Freeman office. It is simple. If you have not at any time invested in these stamps you are expected to appear at these places on that day and tell why. The registration of these stamps will be made and sent to Washington. Every citizen who subscribes if they desire. Those of that class who are living in this country, are people who are personally obligated to help save the country by contributing to the war effort. Such is also the duty of all citizens. But the citizen has a higher duty in this matter and cannot be excused except for the best of reasons. All who have at any time bought and pledged for these stamps will be so credited as well as those who come in on the drive. No body will be censured short of buying or pledging to buy a War Savings Stamp worth at least $5.

The day and evening reports of the workers begin tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. During the course of the drive many men of national celebrity are expected to be present and address these gatherings.

This letter was sent out by County Chairman Wm. D. Brinnier today to every school superintendent in the county:

Dear Sir:—On June 15, 1918, Governor Whitman issued a proclamation on and designated June 28, between 12 noon and 10 p. m., as the time when all patriotic citizens should appear at the nearest school house in person or by proxy to register pledges to save and economize to help win this war and to fulfill such pledges by investing in war saving certificates.

I hereby request you to have the school houses in your district opened at the time mentioned and have some one present to register those who appear and report same to me as county chairman. You must not fail in your duty.

SKINNER SPEAKS TO STATE BANKERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 21.—The utmost co-operation of all bankers of the country in financing the world's war and preparing for the financial problems after the war, was urged by State Superintendent of Banks George L. Skinner of New York addressing the New York State Bankers' Association in convention here today.

He told the bankers that while war is a subject given but little consideration by bankers, this war is of crossing interests.

"Dollars mean munitions and the banks have become the very arsenal of power," he declared. "Billions upon billions of dollars have been spent and further billions are to be asked for in the near future, and upon the banks and bankers of the country are thrown burdens and responsibilities second only to those of the men who risk their lives in the trenches, in the air, upon the seas and under the seas."

There is no way, he said, of forestalling the strain that may yet be placed upon our banking systems either during or at the close of the war. "This much is sure, that the utmost co-operation should prevail between the banks and bankers of the country and those charged with the responsibility of financing the war."

Anyone who proposes radical changes in the banking laws or banking systems of the country at this time, he said, courts disaster. He entered vigorous protest against the "Wall Street War" and "A Rich Man's War," but said that the bankers of New York knew long before war was declared that war was inevitable.

"Some men are still prating about the moral issues of this war. There are no moral issues in this war. The present war is wholly immoral. It is the criminal minds of the bankers of the Hohenzollern and Hapsburg lines, it is a war of barbarism against civilization, of darkness against light, and we are fighting today not for any humanism theories, but for the democracy of the murderous Robber of Russia, but because we must, for our very existence, for the freedom of our sons and our sons' sons and for the protection of our daughters from outrage and shame. The Frein has already brought the war to our shores, and if we had not entered the war, he would still have brought it further and further. At his own chosen time, he would have overrun our fertile fields and ravaged our prosperous cities. Then we would have been face to face with this modern monster of savagery alone, for the chivalrous French armies and the sturdy armies of Britain would have already been blotted from the earth."

The war, he said, must be won at any cost. He warned the bankers, they must become politicians, not partisans, and watch legislation "which might be as dangerous as the loss of any army."

Nickel Nearly Caused Accident.

While riding down Clinton avenue this noon on a trolley car a young boy dropped a nickel. The boy jumped from the car while it was going quite fast. He landed on the pavement almost in front of a big delivery truck that was passing, and the presence of mind of the driver of the truck, who applied the brakes in record time, saved the boy from being struck. The boy recovered the nickel and stood coolly waiting for another trolley to come along.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 21.—There was a show of strength at the opening of the stock market today, with slight advances made in the leading issues but within a few minutes the demand diminished and prices generally went downward. Steel Common rose 1/4 to 1/2 followed by a recession to 1/2. The other steel stocks moved up in the same way. Bethlehem Steel showing an opening advance of 1/4 at 84 1/2, and then dropping to 84 1/4. Most interest was attached to the trading in United Cigar Stores which was in brisk demand advancing 1 1/2 to 100 1/2. Cuban Cane Sugar was another strong feature advancing 1/2 to 32 1/2. Pittsburgh and West Virginia continued active and strong, making a further gain of one point to 38 1/2. Washam Common was also strong, advancing 1/2 to 9 1/2.

Trading was active all through the forenoon with little change, several stocks selling at new high records. Steel Common moved up to 107 1/2, the highest price touched since it sold. Other steel industrials made gains of about one point. United Cigar Stores continued in brisk demand, moving up 1/2 to 102 1/2. Many of the low priced railway issues were unusually active. Liberty Bonds were weak, the 4 1/2's selling down to 95 1/2 and the second 4's to 92 1/2. The stock market closed heavy today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Albany, N. Y., June 21.—Political advisers of Governor Whitman today said that the governor would not publicly answer any letters addressed to him touching on any phase of his campaign for re-election. They declared he would be silent on the letter sent him last night by Attorney General Lewis. Lewis's letter to the governor last night was the most stinging of the several he has addressed to Governor Whitman.

HELP FOR FARMER
OFFERED BUREAU

Registrants With C. of C. Committee

Come in Steadily From

Busy Workers—The Need is Urgent and a Thousand is the Limit.

Clay Crosby, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee directing the drive for farm labor, called at the office of C. F. Cochran,

County Director of the Farm Bureau, and formally placed at the disposal of the Farm Bureau over 250 men who are volunteers ready to proper notice to take of their coats and put on their overalls and go into the fields of Ulster county and do such work as may be needed to assist the farmers in getting in their crops.

Mr. Crosby also made it plain that there are in the list efficient and experienced farm labor and doubtless there are men to be found there who are trustworthy and competent to handle teams and do general farm labor. The Farm Bureau has names of farmers who are in need of immediate help, but have been especially solicitous lest volunteer farm hand who is looking for the steady job during the rest of the season cultivating and later getting in the crops. Mr. Crosby, of course, is not acquainted with all the residents on his list, but he assured Mr. Wright of the Farm Bureau, who charge of delivering help to the needy farmers, that if Mr. Wright would take up the lists Mr. Crosby's committee is rapidly enlarging, there is hardly a doubt he can get such help. Mr. Crosby's was assured that his lists would be drawn on next week.

The solicitors have been peculiarily fortunate in getting desirable registrants, which include many of Kingston's substantial business men. One a contractor, volunteers the use of his large motor car.

There is also a woman registrant.

Who is a member of one of Kingston's best families.

The teams are all working. This is one of the most active and best managed drives the city has had, so far as the needs to be supplied go.

It is a quiet, diligent hunt for volunteers and every word is being canvassed. There are no evening meetings or patriotic demonstrations. The team workers report to Mr. Crosby daily. None have as yet been garlanded with publicity. But they are working like beavers just the same.

"We need 1,000 volunteers and are going to get them," said Mr. Crosby.

"It was should fail it would be the first time that Kingston has fallen down in her drive for the war. Ulster county farmers, as I ascertained at the Farm Bureau, are in real need of assistance. Just now it is not so apparent or general for there is no extra help needed by those farmers who have been able to get in their crops, except in a few cases. But it is expected that haying will begin soon. Then those who have patriotically volunteered to put on their old straw hats will cheerfully respond to the needs of the farmers. The cannvass is thorough in every ward.

We have over 250 names brought in and I know of some of the wards where they have several names that have not yet been reported."

The additional lists booked since the publication of previous lists in

The Freeman are as follows:
